Adventure Theater Recap: Episode #12: Be Your Best You

Al-x and the old man were both declared as the winners. Al-x got the girl and the cavemen learned you don't have to be good at hunting and fishing to be a good caveman; you just need to be the best you, you can be.

1. Greetings & Review

Champions! Roll Call and student story recap.

LESSON

2. Video: Leadership Workshop Pin the Tooth on Shag

- Place the poster of Shag in an easy-to-reach location in the room.
- Ask for a volunteer who thinks they can pin a tooth on Shag.
- Blindfold them and hand them the tooth with a stick pin pointing towards the wall.
- Spin them around then have them pin the tooth on Shag.

It's hard to know where to pin the tooth when we are wearing a blindfold. That's what lies do to us. They keep us from seeing what's right in front of us.

To be your best you, be true to yourself. Do things that help you be and do your very best. Only watch TV shows and engage in conversations that help you think good thoughts and say kind things. Don't believe everything you see and hear. Learn how to hear the compass of truth that's inside of you.

WORKBOOK

3. Leadership Workbook:

Pages 52-53: Be Your Best You

Be True to You

Did you know that just as you grow into your adult teeth, you also grow as a leader? Peer Leaders learn new skills every day to help them succeed in life and get along with others. These skills may seem small, but if you practice them every day they will make you very wise and very successful in all you do.

Consider some of the lessons we've learned from Al-x during this production. We've learned to be true to ourselves while being considerate of others. We've also learned that real friends like you for who you are. Finally, we learned that you don't have to be good at everything to be a great person, you just have to be good at being you!
