

SHARE FAIR RULE!

Sharing fair seems like such a simple precept of childhood, yet entire societies and social structures rise and fall on the concepts of fairness. It is directly tied to our emotional safety and survival instincts.

There are some simple tricks that empower children to resolve sharing conflicts on their own. The first sharing rule is used when there are items that need to be divided fairly. This works wonders on things like the last cupcake. Let one child be the divider who is responsible for creating equal parts. The key here is to let all the other children choose their pieces first and the one responsible for dividing the pieces, last. You'll never see such perfectly fair portions or happier participants!

Happy sharing!
